WELCOME TO THE BIRTHING KIT FOUNDATION AUSTRALIA

For millions of women, childbirth remains one of the deadliest days of their lives.

Over the past two decades, the Birthing Kit Foundation Australia (BKFA) has worked alongside communities around the world to support the conditions for cleaner, safer births in places affected by poverty, conflict, displacement and extreme isolation.

AT THE HEART OF OUR WORK IS THE CLEAN BIRTH KIT.

Basic as they are, our Clean Birth Kits stand between infection and recovery, life and death, for many women and babies in the developing world.

SIX SIMPLE ITEMS. ONE LIFE-SAVING PURPOSE.

FROM YOUR HAND TO HERS.

Packed by volunteers in Australia and around the world, every Clean Birth Kit begins a journey spanning thousands of kilometres.

By boat, plane and even on foot, kits travel through our network of global partners to reach women in rural villages, remote communities, health clinics, refugee and displacement camps – and places where roads, and often healthcare, simply don't exist.

BEYOND THE BIRTH KIT.

A Clean Birth Kit supports a safer birth. Education and empowerment strengthen the systems that support women and girls for generations.

Together with our field partners, we invest in the people and programs that build maternal healthcare from the ground up – developing the skills, knowledge and local capacity needed to create healthier, more sustainable communities long into the future.

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERING

PACK A KIT.
MAKE AN IMPACT.

BKFA is an Australian not-for-profit working to improve maternal and newborn health in communities where access to essential healthcare is limited.

A partnership with BKFA connects your workplace to a global effort to make childbirth cleaner and safer – turning just a few hours of your team’s time into tangible impact for women and babies.

Our popular Assembly Days offer a hands-on volunteering experience where staff work together to pack Clean Birth Kits. In less than an hour, one person can pack approximately 10 kits, each destined for a woman preparing to give birth.

It’s a simple, fun and rewarding team-building exercise. As the boxes fill, staff can see exactly what they’ve achieved together – all while connecting with colleagues outside the usual 9-5.

FOR YOUR TEAM

Step away from the day-to-day, roll up your sleeves and create a shared experience that fosters collaboration and gives everyone a meaningful role in supporting maternal health.

FOR YOUR ORGANISATION

Turn Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) goals into meaningful, measurable action.

FOR WOMEN AND BABIES

Help create cleaner, safer births and support stronger maternal health in disadvantaged communities around the world.

Our work contributes to:
SDG 3: Good Health and Wellbeing
SDG 5: Gender Equality
SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production

WE MAKE IT EASY.

“Prior to the event, BKFA reached out and provided incredibly helpful support. They shared detailed packing instructions, an Assembly Day manual, a YouTube video demonstrating the kit assembly process, and marketing material to make promoting the event simple. Any time I had a question, BKFA replied promptly, which made the entire planning process feel smooth and well-supported.”

Assembly Days can be held wherever your team is based, with a minimum order of 200 kits.

BKFA supplies the kit components, instructions and supporting resources, while our dedicated Assembly Day Coordinator helps you prepare for the day. Once your event is complete, the packed kits are collected from your office and returned to us, ready for distribution through our field partners.

Organisations can choose to fund their Assembly Day directly or fundraise as a team. As a registered charity, donations to BKFA of $2 or more are tax deductible.

PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

ASSEMBLY DAYS ARE JUST THE BEGINNING.

From workplace fundraising and direct donations to program sponsorship and long-term partnerships, there are many ways your organisation, employees and customers can help us create safer births and brighter futures for women and babies around the world.

MAKE GIVING PART OF YOUR BUSINESS.

Rally your team around a workplace fundraiser or challenge, match employee donations, make a direct contribution, or invite your customers to support our cause through a campaign, purchase or point of sale.

Whether it's a one-off idea or an ongoing commitment, we can work with you to turn generosity into impact.

SPONSOR A MATERNAL HEALTH PROGRAM.

Program sponsorship gives you the opportunity to partially or fully support work delivered with our field partners in communities around the world.

Your contribution could train traditional birth attendants, educate women about maternal health or help a future midwife gain the qualifications to care for women in her own community.

It's an opportunity to invest not only in safer births today, but in stronger maternal healthcare for the future.

BUILD A PARTNERSHIP THAT GROWS WITH YOU.

If you're looking to make BKFA your charity of choice as part of your CSR activities, our Bronze, Silver and Gold corporate packages offer opportunities to enhance your support and create greater impact over time.

As your partnership grows, so do the opportunities to engage your team and share your impact – from regular Assembly Days and recognition across BKFA's website, social media, Annual Report and events, through to tailored impact reporting, presentations and collaborative media opportunities.

TALK TO US ABOUT THE PARTNERSHIP THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOUR ORGANISATION.

"I'm proud to support the Birthing Kit Foundation Australia in their mission to improve maternal and newborn health worldwide. I'm inspired by the way this organisation fosters both local and global community, bringing people together to pack simple kits that make a life-saving difference for mothers and babies who need them most."

– Teresa Palmer, BKFA Patron,
Australian actress and mother-of-five.

MAKE AN IMPACT TOGETHER.

Whether you want to bring your team together for an Assembly Day, invest in a maternal health program or explore an ongoing corporate partnership, we'd love to hear from you.
